(d) if so, the details thereof and the action being taken to fill up the vacancies in order to dispose of the cases promptly?

THE MINISTER OF LAW, JUSTICE AND COMPANY AFFAIRS (SHRIARUN JAITLEY): (a)Yes, Sir.

Presently, only the status of pending cases in Delhi High Court is available on the internet. For rest of the High Courts, the system study by the National Informatics Centre (NIC) is being done.

(b) The available information is given in the Statement I (See below).

(c) and (d) Out of a total of 647 sanctioned posts of Judges in various High Courts, 177 posts were vacant as on 10.8.2001. Statement II giving details of the vacancy position in various High Courts is enclosed.

The filling up of vacancies in the High Courts is a continuous consultative process among the Constitutional authorities. While every effort is maUe to fill up the existing vacancies expeditiously, vacancies do keep on arising on account of retirement, resignation or elevation of Judges.
